

SLAYER OF MORRIS STILL AT LARGE

Tramp Carrying Hand-Bag Believed to Belong to Murdered Man, Tried to Hire Horse.

BEGIN STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Contractor Murphy, of Port Huron, Will Begin to Pave Bank Street First.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, Va., June 12.—The slayer of Martin V. Morris, the Petersburg man who was murdered and robbed last Saturday morning near Wilson Station, on the Norfolk and Western Railroad, is still at large, and nothing is known of his whereabouts. A tramp, carrying the murdered man's handbag, stopped at the residence of a farmer several miles from Wilson Sunday morning and tried to hire a horse and buggy, saying that he wished to go to Brunswick Street, but the farmer, not forthcoming, and the tramp continued his journey afoot, going toward Brunswick. The farmer had heard nothing of the Morris murder, but he is satisfied that the hobo with the victim's bag was the murderer.

The body of the murdered man was taken to his old home, in Halifax county.

Petersburg at the Fair.
Petersburg is largely represented at the Virginia Day, exercises at the Jamestown Exposition today. In addition to a goodly number of people, who left here Sunday evening and Monday morning, with the purpose of spending several days at the fair, 241 left on the Norfolk and Western special this morning. A considerable number took the regular 9:30 "Cannon Ball" train, and many went down the river last night on the steamer Pocomoke.

A. J. Murphy, of Port Huron, Mich., who has the contract for paving the roadways of several Petersburg streets with vitrified brick, is in the city, and will begin his work at once. Bank Street will be the first to receive attention.

The counties around Petersburg have marked practically all of their tobacco.

Worden—Griffin.
Miss Katharine Agnes Griffin, of Baltimore, and Mr. John O. Worden, who recently came to Petersburg from Vermont, were married at St. Paul's Episcopal Church to-day by the rector, Rev. H. W. Harlow, was made best man to this country from Ireland a short time ago.

Mr. Lynwood Allen Andrews and Miss Florrie Lee, a popular young couple of this city, went to Washington this morning to be married this afternoon by Rev. Harry W. Pratt, formerly of this city, now pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Washington. The young couple were accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Andrews and Miss Alma Andrews, mother and sister of the groom. The bride is a daughter of Mr. T. Frank Kitcher, of Rev. Father J. T. O'Farrell, rector of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, went to Richmond to-day to attend the semi-annual conference of the Catholic priests of the diocese.

Death of Mrs. Robie.
Mrs. Addie A. Robie, wife of Mr. Theophilus Robie, died early this morning at her residence, on Commerce Street. Mrs. Robie was married to her husband by a great number of friends. She was fifty-four years old, and is survived by her husband and the following sons and daughters: Mr. Frank Robie, Miss Pearl Robie, John H. Robie and James Ernest Robie, of this city, and Mr. Thomas Robie, of Newport News. She was a sister of Mrs. John Lufsey, of Richmond; Mrs. John Wood, of this city, and Mr. Henry Stewart, of Roanoke.

Negro Must Hang for His Crime.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BOWLING GREEN, Va., June 12.—John Taylor, whose trial has been in progress for two days, was to-day found guilty of murder in the first degree, the jury only being in their room fifteen minutes.

This is the second trial of Taylor, the first resulting in a hung jury, eleven being for first degree murder, and one for second degree.

The crime for which Taylor will pay the death penalty was committed about the 2d of last February at a negro frolic, when he and several of his gang tried to start a row which resulted in the deliberate murder of Jennifer Coleman, a peaceable negro, by Taylor.

Surrenders After Being Shot.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, Va., June 12.—Drew Black, a negro, who is wanted by the Rockingham county N. C. authorities on the charge of escaping from the county roads force, surrendered to the police here to-day. Black was shot several nights ago while fleeing from two police officers. He was taken back this afternoon by Sheriff Plunk.

Theft of Horse Charged.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, Va., June 12.—Eunyan Williams, a white man about forty-five years of age, was arrested here to-day on the charge of larceny of a horse. He is wanted by the North Carolina authorities. It is alleged that Williams was given a horse by a Greensboro man to sell on commission. As soon as it was learned that he had left the State a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Wise Talks by "The Office Boy"

Say, don't it feel good—this sunshiny? Seems as though I really was going to grow big and fat. If this weather will just keep up, I will tell you, it's great after so much rain, and cold, raw weather, but then, all things come out right in the end. We know they will, because it's written in the Good Book that way. Sometimes, when we have so much heavy weather, and everybody seems to want last winter's goods, instead of the new stuff, I begin to wonder what will happen. Then I think what a messy little chump I am to wonder how the wise ones can ever keep from buying the nice things we have for them this summer. It is as easy to pick out a suit here now as it is for a barn swallow to pick up mud. You simply can't go wrong. This story is the real candy boy, all right—we have the goods, and that's something these cherty times. Every other man, as well as the kids like me, that live around this man's town, will want some of our new creations in light-weight vacation suits. If you can't come, write a letter, and we will send an approval, and forget that I am the real delivery car, whether express, hotel or residence.

RICHMONDER WINS BEAUTIFUL BRIDE

Wedding of Mr. Edward Dickinson Foster and Miss Hannah Cameron.

OTHER VIRGINIA NUPTIALS

Miss Lillian Irving Langley Becomes Bride of Mr. James Andrew Baird.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
GOSHEN, Va., June 12.—A beautiful wedding took place Tuesday at 9:30 P. M., when Miss Hannah Cameron became the bride of Mr. Edward Dickinson Foster, of Richmond, Va.

The wedding took place at the Presbyterian Church, which had been beautifully decorated with mountain laurel and potted plants and a profusion of candles.

Promptly at the appointed hour the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," which was rendered by Mr. Falkenbach. The bridesmaids—Miss Lucille Dickinson, of Roanoke; Misses Janet Bell and Susie Goodloe, of Goshen, Va., and Miss Mary Cameron, sister of the bride, dressed in white-wash chiffon, with pink sashes, wearing short bridesmaids' veils, and carrying large bunches of laurel—entered from the door to the right of the chancel, and proceeded to the main entrance to meet the bride. There they were joined by the ushers—Messrs. J. Luther Moon and Julian Gunn, of Richmond, Va.; Andrew Warwick Cameron, of Hot Springs, Va., a cousin of the bride; and Andrew Warwick Gatewood, of Clifton Forge, Va. They then returned to the chancel, where a semicircle was gracefully formed, the maids being on the left and the groomsmen to the right. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Jean Cameron, a beautiful brunette, sister of the bride, handsomely gowned in white net over tulle, with a short veil fastened with a wreath of lilies of the valley, and carrying pink carnations. Following her, escorted by Mr. Andrew Warwick Cameron, her brother, who gave her away, came the bride, beautifully attired in a princess gown of white chiffon and duchess lace over satin, with long bridal veil and orange blossoms, and wearing a handsome pearl brooch, the gift of the groom. She was met at the altar by the groom, who was attended by his brother, Mr. Hugh Foster, Rev. H. A. Young, pastor of the church, officiated.

A reception followed at the home of the bride, the color scheme being pink and white. The punch bowl was provided over by Miss Mattie Harman, daughter of State Treasurer A. W. Harman, of Richmond. Refreshments were served by Miss Ellen Cameron, of "Cameron Hall"; Mrs. Joseph Seay, of Bluefield, W. Va., who was formerly Miss Janie Cameron, of "Cameron Hall," and Miss Primrose Cameron.

They were the recipients of many handsome presents, among which was a quantity of cut glass and silver. Immediately after the reception the newly-wedded couple left by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway for an extended tour to Niagara, Canada and New York, and will return by the Jamestown Expedition to their future home in Clifton Forge, Va.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seay, of Bluefield, W. Va.; Mr. Cyrus Creigh, of Staunton, Va.; Miss Fiove, of North Carolina; Miss Dickinson, of Roanoke, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. William Foster, of Richmond; Misses Mattie and Jean Harman, of Lexington, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Clemmer, of Swoope, Va.

Miss Cameron, a beautiful blonde, is the daughter of Dr. John H. Cameron, a granddaughter of Colonel Charles Cameron, of Revolutionary fame. She is a member of the Daughters of the Confederacy, Daughters of the Revolution, and Colonial Dames, being descended from Dr. John Cameron, of Colonial times, a nephew of Loedel, chief of the Cameron clan of Scotland. Mr. Foster belongs to one of the oldest and most distinguished families of East Virginia, and is a young man of much promise.

HIS SWEETHEART WON IN GERMANY

Pretty Subject of the Kaiser Crosses Ocean to Wed Her Virginia Lover.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
AMHERST, Va., June 12.—Two months ago Amule Pauline Klemm, of Leipzig, Germany, crossed an unusually stormy sea for America. Had the other passengers on that trip been observant, however, they might have noticed that the nearer they were to America the happier appeared this pretty German girl. In Washington she was met by Dr. Thomas Moody Campbell, of this county, her fiancé, and yesterday afternoon at the home of his mother, about three miles from Lynchburg, in this county, they were married. Dr. Campbell taught German at the Bedford City Academy last session. This summer he will teach at the Summer School in Charlottesville. Next session he will teach at the Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg. He is one of the late Rev. Thomas H. Campbell, of this county, for many years one of the presiding elders of the Virginia Conference of the Methodist Church. He and his bride became engaged while he was studying at the University of Leipzig, where he spent several years. Dr. H. W. Campbell, of Suffolk, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and Miss Rosa Bud Campbell, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Misses Frances and Grace Campbell, nieces of the groom acted as flower girls. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Shackford, of Lynchburg.

MISS LONLEY WEDS MR. BAIRD

Brilliant Wedding Celebrated in Radford—Judge Longley's Daughter the Bride.

MISS HANNAH HAINSFORD CAMERON.

Judge and Mrs. Selden Longley, became the bride of Mr. James Andrew Baird. It was the society event of the season, and had been looked forward to with much interest.

The church, which was filled to overflowing, presented a lovely appearance. The color scheme was green and white. Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played by Dr. Robert Cowan, and Mr. E. S. Jones sang "My Heart's Long Dream of You."

The afternoon idlers, of which club the bride is a member—eighteen attractive girls and young matrons—entered in couples by the two central aisles and crossing at the front, grouped themselves to right and to left. They were gowned in white with green ribbons, and carried wreaths of mountain laurel starred with beautiful blossoms. They were followed by the groom's attendants, Messrs. Hugh McGinnis, Robert Jordan, Will and Frank Longley, J. Lewis Ingles and Will Whaling.

Then came the bridesmaids, Miss Lucetta Jordan, of Knoxville, and Miss Leona Vawter, of the Miller School, cousins of the bride. The matron and maid of honor followed—Mrs. Lucy Times, of Crosswell, and Miss Margaret Watson, of Pulaski. The pretty bride entered with her father, Judge Selden Longley. The bridegroom entered by the opposite aisle with his best man, Mr. A. W. Aston, and meeting the bride at the altar. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Barnett, of the Methodist Church, pastor of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Baird left on the midnight train for a Northern bridal trip, which will extend as far as Niagara.

CLEAN MACHINERY.
Every man who knows anything about it will say that machinery must be kept clean if the best work is expected from it. Exactly the same is true of the machinery of the body, which can do its work properly only when kept clear of clogging accumulations. The bodily machinery of the human being is clogged when there is constipation, and this can be permanently cured and prevented from becoming chronic only by restoring the strength of weakened muscles. Experienced medical men find that this can best be done by the use, until there is free movement of the bowels, of Laxative of the bowels, which can do its work properly only when kept clear of clogging accumulations.
